One example of a troll game, created in 2005, was "Uppercut". This involved players being knocked into the air when they attempted to create their character. However, when the player hits the ground, they were shown a message saying that the creator of this game had disabled their inventory and that they had been defeated.

On October 4th, 2018, Roblox introduced a new game mode called "Elevate", which had players build futuristic skyscrapers in the sky. Players were able to earn money by selling their custom skyscrapers for Robux. It was soon discovered that many of these buildings were copies from the game "Survival Island", prompting ROBLOX to ban users who had copied these buildings.[79]

The code that has been provided with the promotion will reveal how much free robux is going to be provided with it. Once the code has been used, all of the games that are being played will be completely free.

On December 18th, 2019, ROBLOX announced their controversial decision on how they plan on handling moderators in the future.[106] This caused controversy within the community as many moderators believed they wouldn't be able to perform their job correctly due to ROBLOX's change of plan.

This is mostly used for buying virtual items such as weapons or accessories on Roblox's marketplace and selling them at a profit, which is rather common as people often sell their in-game belongings/items for real money .
