They're clearly taking steps in this direction by creating special perks, abilities, etcetera for those who have purchased robux from them. They're also creating clothing items which are being sold for outrageous prices with the sole purpose of being able to differentiate those who pay from those who don't in their game. This is wrong. It's unethical and it should not be tolerated.

On May 26, 2018, a group of former Roblox moderators started a petition on change.org asking for Roblox to re-hire them after they were fired. The petition currently has over 8000 signatures and the former moderators were promised that they would be getting jobs back at Roblox if their petition reached 10,000 signatures.

ROBLOX's Terms of Service has many loopholes which allows users to get away with nearly anything, such as selling products that have been stolen from other users or using bots for their own gain. The system is also very inconsistent in how it deals with complaints and bans. One of the more infamous examples is user "Sephiroth", who had been banned for attempting to distribute his game, "TitanMC". The ban was eventually lifted, and the account became widely regarded as a joke.[11]

The chart below contains the top 5 accounts with the most amount of plays on ROBLOX in that year (as of December 31st). This chart is directly taken from ROBLOX's blog post for each respective year. ROBLOX games have made the news many times in the past. Below is a short list of some of them.Prior to 2011-2012, ROBLOX game developers were responsible for any known instances of hacking that happened in ROBLOX. There were also older instances where hackers had not yet discovered the community, but eventually did so, and started making exploits on their games that were very popular (such as "Hacker Escape"). Hackers also used an exploit to gain access to admin privileges on a game called The War Factory, which had over 500,000 concurrent players at once. When this was discovered, the hacker was immediately taken down by ROBLOX's staff.

In 2009, coinciding with their tenth anniversary, the company announced that it would be opening a second office in Europe, with partners located in London and Manchester who would "proudly represent" their games on the continent.
