On July 31st 2019, ROBLOX announced they would no longer be supporting this feature, and will be removing all games that are now using this physics system from the ROBLOX Catalog. This will affect nearly every game and millions of gameplay hours into future. The reason why they are discontinuing the feature is because most games with custom physics settings were [[Rage Quitters's favorite targets, and almost all of them are either unplayable or broken due to Roblox's buggy physics engine.

In 2011 the Roblox company sponsored an event at the Children's Museum of Pittsburgh to raise money for charity (Charity Water). This was called Roblox Builders Club: Project Builder which raised over $3,000 for charity water.

There were reports of auto-attack bots from a group called "ArtRage" which was hacked to attack other players in order to force them out of the game, and then to prevent them from ever returning. On April 12, 2014 there was a report from an Arianespace engineer that someone had been "hacking into rocket control computers and maneuvering vehicles on the ground". The players involved were reported to be ArtRage members.

Not only that, but since "Robloxian life" lasts so long, many players have to pay to charge their battery or buy power packs and if players don't have enough money to spend, they can lose interest.

Some other ways that these generators get more traffic is through sending out promotional codes on social media sites like Twitter or Facebook while also using email marketing techniques.
