The following is a list of some of TikTok's most popular users: There have been numerous cases where it has been observed that popular users on TikTok have not only become famous and gained a huge online following from posting videos online, but also have received lucrative sponsorship deals to promote certain products or services to their followers. This has led to speculation that TikTok has used a strategy similar to pay-for-play in order to get these individuals on board as brand ambassadors for certain companies. For example, in January 2021, the most followed girl on TikTok was seen promoting an air purifier for Amway before she even started posting on the app. The following is a list of some of the companies that have sponsored celebrities/users on TikTok:",

A study published in June 2021 by researchers at University College London (UCL) revealed that TikTok's videos were found to be "gender stereotyped, objectifying, and often [showed] normalization of smoking and alcohol use" and also used hashtags in their videos related to body weight control, eating disorder recovery, sexual violence, sexuality issues and gender identity issues. The study goes on to say that children and adolescents are a primary user demographic for this app, and that the app uses "emotional manipulation" to "sustain engagement".",

Musical.ly has been targeted by spyware developers who have attempted to take advantage of vulnerable accounts. In March 2021, "CNET" reported that the company had pulled PathMate, a tethering app which could be used to record and spy on users' mobile video activity; however it still remained on iTunes and Google Play Store after its removal from Musical.ly's website. In June 2021, mobile security firm Lookout released a report noting that spyware apps were disrupting IMEI access through compromised Musical.ly accounts. Lookout also found that spyware apps were being offered as Musical.ly "likes" or "cheats", with some marketing them as offering or allowing access to features that the app otherwise does not have. The report also noted that it was possible for users to be infected just by scrolling through the app's stories without clicking on anything, and users would often have no idea they had been compromised until a notification popped up telling them to install an update to their security software in order to remove malicious threats.",

In August 2021, the company announced a partnership with T-Series for the production of various music videos for artists. In December 2021, Tik Tok partnered with Sony Music India to launch "Super Singer", a singing competition where participants can submit video auditions of songs from artists including Mika Singh and Sonu Nigam",
