On multiple occasions, ROBLOX has been hacked into by outside sources. In one of the more recent hacks (2012), hackers took advantage of an exploit to provide themselves with unlimited build tools in games. Users without knowledge of the exploit were forced to leave the game because the tools were infinite and other players could not stop them. This issue was not fixed until two days later. [9] ROBLOX has a rule against using bots (automated scripts that allow players to automatically perform actions) but this rule can be easily bypassed due to the fact that users are able to easily create incredibly powerful bots with simple scripting. The easier ROBLOX makes it for users to create powerful scripts, the more likely they are going to be used in botting and/or spamming games. This is one of the reasons why user-created games like "The Plaza" have been taken down.

Rated 5 out of 5 by Anonymous from So much fun I love this game so much! There is no fighting, just chatting with your friends online and there are no missions or quests to complete to play this game. It has no age limit either, so younger kids can join in.

The chart below contains the top 5 accounts with the most amount of plays on ROBLOX in that year (as of December 31st). This chart is directly taken from ROBLOX's blog post for each respective year. ROBLOX games have made the news many times in the past. Below is a short list of some of them. Prior to 2011-2012, ROBLOX game developers were responsible for any known instances of hacking that happened in ROBLOX. There were also older instances where hackers had not yet discovered the community, but eventually did so, and started making exploits on their games that were very popular (such as "Hacker Escape"). Hackers also used an exploit to gain access to admin privileges on a game called The War Factory, which had over 500,000 concurrent players at once. When this was discovered, the hacker was immediately taken down by ROBLOX's staff.

On March 31, 2010, ROBLOX announced that they would be updating their policy on how they handle user information. [1] On May 5, 2010, a mass email was sent out from the company to its users informing them of changes made to their Privacy Policy and Terms of Use. The changes were made in the name of increased safety and security, and it was stated that the change was made in order to "protect [its] members."
