ROBLOX has also been criticised for its lack of support for users who are victims of scams and other forms of theft. Some samples include: A user by the name of EthanSteele has recently had his full game, "The Quest" stolen by someone else and renamed "Game Start". He made an appeal to ROBLOX's administrators on Reddit asking that he be given back his prototype so that he could resume development on it but they banned him and closed his case. Another example was the theft of a user's game, "The Polaroid Project", by another user who put it on a free-to-play model for the purpose of making money.

ROBLOX has been criticised for not allowing users to report other users who are abusing others or who are being abusive in their games. There have been a number of times where users were able to exploit this and harass other users without consequence. This was especially common on the server "The Plaza", where certain accounts were able to retaliate against other players with no restrictions.

You are paying for a product that doesn't exist. You wouldn't pay for an airline ticket without knowing when the flight has left the gate or whether it would ever take off. It is unethical to purchase Robux (robux) without knowing how they are stored or used within ROBLOX's software. You shouldn't be forced to pay for something in which you have no ability to benefit from what you're paying for.

On May 12, 2016, ROBLOX announced that its first paid product (ROBLOX Credit) would be released on the 7th of June 2016. Later on July 4, 2016, ROBLOX Credit will be released to a limited number of people and then will eventually be released to everyone with their first payment plan in July 2017. On September 15 it was available for all users to purchase via Paypal or Credits. On May 17, 2017, ROBLOX announced that starting on May 26, users who had never purchased or used ROBLOX Credit will have to purchase it using real money.
