A few days after this article was published, TikTok announced in response to these concerns that it is conducting an audit of all accounts with unpaid subscription fees. As of April 2021, various media outlets reported that TikTok had managed to identify tens of millions of accounts which were involved in posting content on the platform without having paid for it. The publication also reported that the video service was working with legal and other experts to help recommend steps which could be taken against people who had posted content without paying for it. A representative for TikTok told a news outlet that "We are always taking measures to ensure our community is able to enjoy the best TikTok experience possible. When we identify that an account has been using features without paying subscriptions, we interrupt services so they can upgrade. We also work closely with our legal team to take action against all accounts that don't comply with our Terms of Use.",

On July 10th 2021, Apple released a statement saying: "We have been working closely with TikTok to remove all inappropriate videos." and that it was working with the Chinese government to stop child pornography and harmful content from being posted on the platform",

On February 16, 2021, Musical.ly filed another lawsuit in the U.S. District Court for the Southern District of New York against Snapchat as well as its parent company Snap Inc., alleging that these companies had falsely claimed in advertising materials that they had no similar patents-related claims against AppsFlyer Technologies (which provides analytics services for app developers). In this lawsuit, Musical.ly claimed that Snapchat had infringed on four patents including US Patent Nos. 8,426,604 and 9,446,633 from a 2021 patent application by AppsFlyer Technologies for real-time engagement analytics for mobile applications; it also claimed that Snapchat had violated US Patent Nos. 6,192,977 and 8,526,721 which AppsFlyer had assigned to Snapchat in 2021. In addition to compensation for damages from these related claims, Musical.ly sought injunctive relief requiring Snapchat and Snap Inc. to withdraw its advertising materials.",

This all being said, TikTok has big plans for the future and is looking to turn itself into an advertising powerhouse. "We want to get into our second stage and create a self-sustaining business," said Toutiao chief executive Zhang Zefan in an interview with Business Insider. "Our plan is not only to build scale but also branded content applications that can monetize our platform.",

In August 2021, it was reported that TikTok was under investigation by the New York attorney general's office after its investigation into several other social networking apps including Musical.ly and Bytedance's Douyin app revealed evidence of privacy violations, data leaks and predatory marketing practices. Bytedance's marketing strategy for building and growing these apps encourages users to post photos of underage children, according to the New York Times.", A study published in June 2021 by researchers at University College London (UCL) revealed that TikTok's videos were found to be "gender stereotyped, objectifying, and often [showed] normalization of smoking and alcohol use" and also used hashtags in their videos related to body weight control, eating disorder recovery, sexual violence, sexuality issues and gender identity issues. The study goes on to say that children and adolescents are a primary user demographic for this app, and that the app uses "emotional manipulation" to "sustain engagement".",

The app has also been accused of being culturally appropriative due to its overwhelmingly white user base, but as of 2021, it has a growing Asian userbase as well. However, many Asian people on twitter are criticizing Tiktok saying that the app is racist because the only Asian people on tiktok are usually just Korean people or people who post content in Korean &/or criticize Korea and Kpop (even though they know they won't understand korean). They say that the app is racist because they only feature korean or chinese people but never other Asian ethnicities like Japanese, Thai, Vietnamese etc.",
