Stories are also available on TikTok. You can upload videos for creating different types of stories such as food videos, dancing videos or any other type of video you want to create on this app. Once you have uploaded the video, it will be added in the "Story" section of the app automatically.", TikTok has been criticised for allowing profanity in some of its videos, as well as encouraging some of its videos to be posted publicly. This is because casual profanity does not have the same impact or consequence in Chinese culture as it would otherwise have in English or American culture. There are many examples of offensive, inappropriate or dangerous behaviour on TikTok, and some users have found it difficult to identify when this behaviour is acceptable and when it is not. Some of this behaviour could be seen as encouraging users to behave in a similar way if they are in a similar situation.", TikTok is not the only app by ByteDance that requires its users to pay for certain features. One example of this is the subscription function for WeChat, a popular messaging service in China and certain other countries. This has led to some people being very concerned about ByteDance's business practices and whether or not it is fair for people to be required to pay for all of the features that are offered on TikTok's platform. In addition, critics have noted that these subscription fees may be used by ByteDance to influence user behaviour and/or monitor users' activities in order to find out what content they are interested in and why they are interested in it. For example, it is possible that people might be required to subscribe to TikTok in order to listen to certain types of music which ByteDance wants people to hear.",

On June 8, 2018, TikTok announced a new feature called "Me. Meet" allowing users to meet others with similar interests in real life at events in their area. In August 2018, TikTok launched a new feature called "TIKTOK Local" that allows users to find activities and experiences around them for short periods of time (ranging from one hour to 24 hours) such as attending concerts or outdoor events. The app also introduced a new type of video called "Live". These videos are designed to showcase different experiences with real-time recording capabilities.",

TikTok has been featured as part of "The Best Apps" series released by Google. It has also featured in Time's "50 Best Android Apps" and TechRadar's "Best Android Apps". In October 2016, "Business Insider" named the application on its list of "11 Fictional Brands That Actually Exist" and has ranked the application in the top three in the world for most-downloaded apps. The app was also placed third on Digital Trends list of "30 Overhyped Products.",
