It's hard for players who are older or younger (because of the increasing costs) to get some points because it takes a lot of effort just for 1 point. Some fields require money that most players cannot pay for. You can easily see this in the game's world:

In December 2011, a lawsuit was filed against Roblox for copyright infringement, in which ROBLOX is accused of copying the entire codebase and game assets of "Infinity: The Quest to the End of the Universe". A cease and desist was also filed against ROBLOX in September 2012 by a head developer from the website Games Done Quick for using their copyrighted content without permission.

There are also individuals who try to steal the identity of other users by scamming them through fake free robux videos. These individuals may use other sources in order to get hold of the scripts of these software and modify it in such a way that they get a slice of the profit once it is used by other people.

ROBLOX runs a no-sell policy that allows for players to earn "robux" or Robux. These tokens can be used to both purchase games, games from other users, and in-game items. It also serves as a way to gain currency for in-game purchases such as buying more slots, which helps players advance faster in the game.
